Message from the President

Dr. Donna Tipton-Rogers, President

Best Wishes,

As we begin the 2013-2014 school year at Tri-County Community College (TCCC), I look forward to a major historical milestone as TCCC celebrates its 50th year of operation.

As we contemplate our future and the ongoing education of our students, it is important that we take time to reflect upon our rich history. During its first 50 years, our campus welcomed a diverse student population who arrived with noteworthy aspirations and goals, as our communities flourished and developed. Countless individuals made meaningful contributions to this College, and through their determination and hard work, Tri-County Technical Institute (est. 1964) was transformed into a beautiful and bustling educational center, now known as Tri-County Community College.

When I walk across the campus and see our students learning and collaborating, growing and succeeding, I am always reminded of the unique role of TCCC. This is a place where goals become reality, because as education empowers individuals, it propels them to make immense strides to improve their lives.

As I participated in our recent graduation ceremonies, I could not help but feel proud in being associated with our College. The room was filled with smiles, laughter, and an enthusiastic outpouring of best wishes. Many of the graduates took the first step toward achieving their life goals, and we are honored that all of the graduates are forever enshrined as permanent members of our Tri-County family.

As you browse through the programs and courses described in this catalog and student handbook, I anticipate you will see opportunities that excite you, and then, I expect you will not delay in acting upon your enthusiasm. I also trust you will find valuable information about our services and policies, but most importantly, I hope you take the chance to get to know our outstanding faculty and staff.

However you use this publication, please know that our doors are always open to you as you embark on, or continue your educational journey.

Best Wishes,

Dr. Donna Tipton-Rogers, President

MISSION STATEMENT

What is Tri-County Community College?
Tri-County Community College is an accredited, comprehensive, public-supported, two-year, post-secondary institution which operates in accordance with North Carolina Law and the administrative policies of the North Carolina Community College System. Located in the westernmost tip of North Carolina, the College serves commuter students in a remote, rural area consisting of Cherokee, Clay, and Graham counties by providing college transfer, vocational, technical, and adult education programs.

Mission Statement
The mission of Tri-County Community College is to engage students in learning, help students succeed, and enrich the communities we serve. This mission is accomplished through:
A. Innovative and effective teaching.
B. Supportive and efficient learning environments.
C. Strong local and regional partnerships.

HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

The roots of Tri-County Community College date back to mid-1964, when political and educational leaders of Cherokee County met with representatives of Asheville-Buncombe Technical Institute. That same year, the North Carolina State Board of Education approved the Tri-County Industrial Education Center to operate as a part of the State Department of Community Colleges.

In July 1965, the Cherokee County Board of Education negotiated a lease agreement with the State of North Carolina for the Center to occupy the abandoned Cherokee County Prison Camp. Newly constructed buildings soon joined the original prison facilities. Most of Tri-County's present buildings on the Murphy campus were built in the '60s and '70s.

Holland McSwain, Tri-County's first president, found support from the Appalachian Regional Commission to construct a new classroom facility and to assist in the purchase of the existing property in Cherokee County. In the 1970s, the Appalachian Regional Commission provided grants to renovate and construct three buildings on the Murphy campus of the College, renamed Tri-County Community College.

Current as of publication date. By the act of the North Carolina State Legislature, the President of Tri-County Community College’s student government association is automatically a non-voting member of the Board of Trustees.

The roots of Tri-County Community College date back to mid-1964, when political and educational leaders of Cherokee County met with representatives of Asheville-Buncombe Technical Institute. That same year, the North Carolina State Board of Education approved the Tri-County Industrial Education Center to operate as a part of the State Department of Community Colleges. In July 1965, the Cherokee County Board of Education negotiated a lease agreement with the State of North Carolina for the Center to occupy the abandoned Cherokee County Prison Camp. Newly constructed buildings soon joined the original prison facilities. Most of Tri-County’s present buildings on the Murphy campus were built in the ‘60s and ‘70s.

Holland McSwain, Tri-County’s first president, found support from the Appalachian Regional Commission to construct a new classroom facility and to assist in the purchase of the existing property in Cherokee County. In the 1970s, the Appalachian Regional Commission provided grants to renovate and construct three buildings on the Murphy campus of the College, renamed Tri-County Community College.
The state legislature appropriated the money for the construction of a new multi-purpose building in 1984. The structure, completed in 1989 and named the Enloe Building, joined the three other main facilities - the McSwain, West, and Crisp buildings.

As Tri-County Community College and the surrounding area continued to grow, the need for an off-campus site to serve the people of Graham County became obvious. One of the major goals of Tri-County Community College is to offer convenient, affordable access to educational services for Graham County residents. The construction of the Graham County Center made this goal a reality.

The Campus Center is the result of a collaboration between Tri-County Community College, Cherokee County, and several industry partners to develop a facility to be used for classes and short-run manufacturing, plus provide space for manufacturers to develop prototypes for contracted items. The Center provides facilities for community workforce development and also houses the Small Business Center, the Machinist Training Program, and the NC Rural Center and the Economic Development Administration.

As TCCC Health and Public Safety program and associated facilities is located on the main campus and adjacent to the four-story Fire and Rescue Training Center. A permanent site for the TCCC TeleCenter/Small Business Center was dedicated in 2004 with the opening of the Patterson Building. The College renovated two buildings on Main Campus in order to expand classroom and laboratory space to better serve its three counties.

In 2005, Cherokee County purchased a 25,000 square foot building in Marble to be used as the Cherokee County Center for Applied Technology. Phase One of the building renovation was completed in 2008. The Center is the result of a collaboration between Tri-County Community College, Cherokee County, and several industry partners to develop a facility to be used for classes and short-run manufacturing, plus provide space for manufacturers to develop prototypes for contracted items. The Center provides facilities for community workforce development and also houses the Small Business Center, the Machinist Training Program, and an associate degree program in Computer Integrated Machining. The NC Rural Center and the Economic Development Administration provided grant funds for the renovation of the building.

The Tri-County Early College High School (TCECHS) began classes in 2006 on the main campus in Murphy. Its goal is to provide an opportunity for high school students to earn both a high school diploma and an associate degree from the College.

In 2010, Tri-County Community College opened the Emergency Services Training Center classroom which is located on the main campus and adjacent to the four-story Fire and Rescue Center burn facility. The College also was approved and graduated its first-ever Basic Law Enforcement Training class during 2010. The expansion of the TCCC Health and Public Safety program and associated facilities is consistent with the ongoing mission to help student succeed and enrich our communities.
Tri-County Early College High School (TCECHS) is an autonomous high school located on the main college campus. The TCECHS provides students who enroll in the ninth grade the opportunity to earn both their high school diploma and an associate degree (or two years of college credit) within four years. The TCECHS provides a safe, caring educational environment where students become active learners, practical problem-solvers, and productive members of the workforce. It is a unique high school environment accepting students of diverse ability levels through an application process conducted each spring.

Career & Community Education

Tri-County Community College offers the opportunity for lifelong learning to all adults, regardless of their educational background.

Career and Community Education courses are specifically designed classes of short duration covering a wide variety of subjects. While some Career and Community Education students may earn CEUs (Continuing Education Units) upon completion of certain subjects, none of the Career and Community Education courses lead to a college degree or diploma.

Basic skills courses are available at no charge to those who did not complete high school and wish to improve their education in reading, writing, mathematics, or basic sciences.
General Education Philosophy

General Education Philosophy Statement

A guiding philosophy of Tri-County Community College is the integrated nature of program development. Rather than focusing narrowly on a particular skill in isolation, the degree programs at the College stress holistic learning: the application of particular skills in a wide variety of situations and the ability to translate those skills in new contexts, whether those new contexts are other courses at the College, various workplaces in a rapidly changing economic environment, or other institutions of higher learning to which our students transfer. Today, given the dynamic nature of most disciplines, fields of employment, and society in general, the foundational skills that allow students to translate their abilities and skills into other contexts have become survival skills. Tri-County Community College’s mission is to facilitate student success, and we believe that these skills that are the foundation of all our programs are the most important means to accomplish that mission. The integration of Global Learning Outcomes of reading, writing, oral communication, mathematics, critical thinking, and basic computer skills is the pathway that all programs at Tri-County Community College provide for our students to achieve success. Similarly, the systematic assessment of these skills, across the curriculum, provides a vital indication of our success in preparing students for the future.

Upon successful completion of a TCCC degree program, a student will be able to:

Written Communication
• Focus and develop topics.
• Determine the appropriate format and diction for the intended audience.
• Present information in a clearly organized fashion.
• Present information in a grammatically effective manner.
• Construct rhetorically effective texts in a wide range of writing situations.
• Utilize a standard style sheet (MLA, APA) to properly document sources.

Oral Communication
• Focus and develop topics.
• Determine the appropriate format and diction for the intended audience.
• Present information in a clearly organized fashion.
• Deliver information in a manner that is physically and verbally effective.
• Construct rhetorically effective communication (e.g., speeches, presentations, interviews, small group discussions) in a wide range of situations.
• Utilize appropriate human relations skills in a wide range of professional situations.

Listening and Reading
• Put into practice literal comprehension skills (familiarity and memory).
• Put into practice inferential comprehension skills (comprehension and analysis).
• Put into practice critical comprehension skills (application and evaluation).

Critical Thinking
• Distinguish facts from generalizations and assumptions.
• Investigate information and demonstrate an understanding of that information.
• Analyze information by recognizing induction, deduction, fallacies, and bias. Then, apply that information to new contexts and critically evaluate that information.
• Recognize performance errors, develop solutions, and effectively apply those solutions.

Computer Competency
• Create a file in an application, save it to a removable storage device, and reopen it.
• Do simple file management, create a folder, copy a file, delete a file, and rename a file.
• Be able to send attachments with e-mail.
• Use a web browser for research purposes.

Mathematical Skills
• Use calculator and computer technology appropriately in mathematics problem solving.
• Write coherent and effective reports on problem solution and technique.
• Compute correctly using real numbers and scientific notation.
• Effectively use fundamental geometric, statistical, measurement, and critical thinking skills in problem solving.
• Manipulate and solve linear formulas and equations.
• Graph collected data and apply appropriate linear models.
• Use consumer mathematics in situations such as those involving: simple and compound interest, loan payments, annuities, and amortization schedules.

(Revised November 2001, April 2008)
The North Carolina Community College System has utilized numerous processes over the years to ensure public accountability for its financial expenditures. These processes have included fiscal audits, program audits, institutional effectiveness plans, and program review. The State Board of Community Colleges reviews colleges annually on accountability measures and performance standards. Each college is evaluated based on seven performance measures. The information below indicates how TCCC rated on each measure in the most recent report.
